Searching for articles of clerkship?

Are you worried about whether or not you will find articles of clerkship after finishing your studies? This is a real problem faced by many LLB graduates. LEAD recognises that competition for articles is high and has, therefore, put a service in place to assist graduates find articles. A subsidy from the Attorneys Fidelity Fund allows LEAD to provide this service for free.

The service – which is beneficial to both principals and candidate attorneys – operates as follows.

1. An aspirant candidate attorney completes a form with his/her personal particulars (see overleaf).
2. LEAD captures this information on a database.
3. Prospective principals contact LEAD when they need to appoint a candidate attorney and are provided information on appropriate candidates from the database.
4. The prospective principal contacts the candidates of his/her preference to arrange interviews.

With the consent of the aspirant candidate attorneys, the particulars can also be provided to other institutions.
