MINING LAW WORKSHOP | 2018

Understanding the essentials of mining law in the South African regulatory environment

About this workshop

This one-day workshop introduces the diverse theoretical and practical dimensions of mining law, as well as its broad applications and regulatory environment. The workshop will provide a historical context, legal developments to date, with an emphasis on common law, the current Mineral and Petroleum Resources Development Act as amended, the Mining Charter, the National Environmental Management Act, applicable international laws, as well as other related legal fields such as property, contract and commercial law.

Venue and date

Midrand: 29 June 2018 | Duration: 09:00 – 16:00

Who should register?

Practicing attorneys, legal advisors, compliance officers and government officials specialising in mining law, mining engineers, geologists, human resources specialists managing social and labour plans, and mining environmental law specialists.

Presenter

DINEO PETA is an admitted attorney with extensive experience in the fields of mining and environmental law, which includes managing the mineral and surface right matters for companies such as BHP Billiton Manganese South Africa and BHP Billiton Energy Coal South Africa. She is the director of Peta Attorneys Inc., which provides legal services in mining law, environmental compliance, energy, and commercial law. Miss Peta's experience also includes making submissions and presentations to Parliament on the MPRDA amendment bill and making submissions to the Pan African Parliament on mineral resources governance in Africa.
